OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue
With the stars of a Union unbrok n and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 20, 1863

By Telegraph.

Our dispatches this morning are those received by Saturday's stage, as those due yesterday did not reach us on account of a mistake of the Express Co.'s Agent, at Salem, who sent the boxes in the wrong direction that for Portland going South, and the other coming here.

We learn, however, from the stage driver, who saw the regular dispatch at Salem, that the official report of Admiral Dupont had been received at Washington, confirming partially the rumors by way of Richmond. The cause of difficulty is said to have been the swift and strong tides, in the harbor of Charleston, which make the ironclads unmanageable in action. The intelligence of the Federal victory at Franklin, Tennessee, is also fully confirmed.

There are other items of news reported, but so indefinitely, that we prefer to wait for fuller accounts, due this evening, when we shall be able to give them correctly; and, if of sufficient interest, in an extra. We shall always furnish real news in this manner, but mere rumors from doubtful sources are not worth the trouble and expense of extras.

The Politics now Demanded.

When we hear men who profess to be loyal, talk about the unconstitutionality of measures deemed necessary for the protection and defence of the Government, and flippantly argue that the Emancipation Proclamation is a violation of constitutional right, we cannot appreciate their patriotism, especially when we notice that this sort of opposition is always found among those who seem to believe that the only salvation for the country is to be found in some kind of a Democratic party, which is to be built up by fighting the acts of the present Administration. Now we do not intend to defend all these, but we do insist that no loyal man will spend his time in trying to make political issues, when all the energy of the whole people ought to be employed in retaining these States as one country, now and forever. If the Democratic party stands in the way, opposed to this, trample down the Democratic party, it is of no great account anyhow; if the Republican party obstructs this, grind the Republican party to powder and there will be no mourners, if slavery is in the way, wipe it out, so that not a mark of it shall remain in the land. Make the Union the one issue, without regard to any other question, and stick to that in fair weather and in foul, in war and in peace. That is politics enough for this generation, and any thing that conflicts with it is treason.

The Superior Civilization of the Rebels.—A Texas paper publishes an order from John R. Baylor, Colonel of the 2d Texas regiment, addressed to Capt. Helm, in command of the Arizona Guards, instructing him how to treat the loyal Indians who have been at Helm's post for the purpose of making a treaty. This brute says:

> The Congress of the Confederate States has passed a law declaring extermination to all hostile Indians. You will, therefore, use all possible means to persuade the Apaches, or any tribes, to come in by making peace; and when you get them together kill all the grown Indians and take the children prisoners, and sell them to defray the expenses of killing the Indians.
>
> Buy whisky, and such other goods as may be necessary for the Indians, and I will order vouchers given to cover the amount expended.
>
> Leave nothing undone to insure success, and have a sufficient number of men to allow no Indians to escape.

Is it possible, after hearing the record of rebel atrocities everywhere in the South, of which the above is but a sample, that there are men who can boast of the superior civilization of the rebels, and give them their sympathies?

Good Use of the Extra Mileage.—The following letter, says the Indianapolis Journal, from Schuyler Colfax inclosed a draft on the Assistant Treasurer of the United States at New York for $629 34, which we are requested to hand over to the Commission for the relief of sick and wounded Indiana soldiers. The money is Colfax's mileage for the last session of Congress:

> House of Representatives, Washington City, March 4th, 1863.—Friend Sulgrove.—Will you oblige me by handing the inclosed check for six hundred and twenty nine dollars and thirty-four cents to the Indiana Commission for the benefit of our sick and wounded soldiers. It is the mileage voted to me for the third session of the Thirty-seventh Congress, which closes to-day, and which I prefer they should have.

Conviction of Murder in the First Degree.—Zebulon Griffin, who killed F D Shane at Lafayette, on the 28th of February last, was tried in the Circuit Court for Yamhill county, on the 15th and 16th, before Judge Boise—Mallory for the prosecution and Ghee for the defence. A great deal of interest was manifested in the trial, and the Courthouse was crowded. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, after a short absence. Judge Boise gave him his sentence, which was, that he should be hung on the 9th day of July next. The prisoner appeared to be considerably affected when the sentence was passed.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to April 12th!

New York, April 11.—The Tribune's dispatch of the 10th says that Richmond papers contain a dispatch from Charleston, dated nine o'clock yesterday morning, saying in substance that all was quiet. The ironclads are still within the bar. The Keokuk is sunk in our sight and among the articles which have drifted ashore is a contrivance for removing torpedoes, and called a devil.

A message from Gov. Bonham, of South Carolina, to the Legislature of that State on the 3d is sufficient to show the extreme destitution from which the rebels are suffering. He states that he has called the Legislature together for the express purpose of considering the proper means to be taken to provide food for the subsistence of the army and the people.

The following is additional in regard to the position of Gen. Foster. It is stated that the rebel force on the other side of the Blackwater was under marching orders on the 8th inst., with two days cooked rations and four days unprepared rations.

A force of Union cavalry, under Gen. Dodge started for the purpose of capturing a detachment of rebel force in that vicinity, who when last heard from they had skirmished with the enemy and taken some prisoners.

From Richmond dispatches of the 9th we have news from Little Washington, N. C., as late as Sunday. The rebels had captured Federal batteries at Hill's Point, situated on the bank of the river nine miles below town, which position gives us (rebels) an open field and fair fight with the Yankees.

Two gunboats, followed by several transports loaded with troops from Newbern, to reinforce Little Washington, attempted to pass our batteries at Hill's Point, on Friday, when they were fired upon and so badly damaged as to be forced to retire.

At last accounts the Federals were landing troops below our works at Hill's Point. In an attempt to get by, the steamer Louisiana was sunk.

There are 2,000 negroes in Little Washington, who immediately tried to get out but failed.

The enemy (Feds) have refused to surrender, or allow the women and children to leave the town, and Gen Hill, it is presumed, will shell the town.

The New York Herald, of the 9th, has the following account of the capture of the gunboat Diana, on the 28th, which left Brashire City with two companies of infantry, on a reconnoissance, and proceeded a short distance into Grand Lake; finding no rebels there, she returned by the way of Atchafalaya. When two miles from Jacksonville, a heavy fire opened on her from masked batteries and rifle pits. Capt. Patterson finding retreat cut off, determined to fight them as long as he could make his guns work, and while doing his duty he was pierced by a minie ball and killed. The command then devolved upon Western, Master Mate, who fought her two hours and a half, by which time nearly all the gunners were killed or wounded, and the guns dismounted. Unable longer to return the fire, he ordered the colors lowered. After the surrender the boat received nine shots. The batteries had from twelve to fifteen guns. All on board the Diana were killed, wounded and captured, except the pilot, who jumped overboard at the last moment and escaped. The gunboat Calhoun, hearing the firing, left her moorings to go to the Diana's assistance, but got aground, and was compelled to throw overboard her ammunition, anchor, chains and provisions, to lighten her.

The Memphis Bulletin, of the 9th, says it has news that a battle of some magnitude took place on Sunday last between the Federals, under McClernand, and a force of rebels at or near Richmond, La., when the rebels fell back. This put McClernand in possession of the town, and a brigade marched to Lagrange and took it.

Washington, April 11.—The Richmond Whig, of the 9th, has the following from Charleston, dated April 8th, ten o'clock, P. M.: All is quiet. The people and troops are in high spirits at the result of yesterday's fight. The Keokuk is certainly sunk—about 1,000 yards from Mercer's Island, pieces of her furniture have been washed ashore. These articles are covered with clotted blood, creating the impression that the slaughter on her was terrible.

The fighting, between the ironclads and forts was at a distance of 3,000 yards. Monitors cannot pass Sumter without coming within 300 yards of her batteries. Seven monitors and ironclads are off the harbor, and two have gone south. The Federals have been repairing damages all day.

Cincinnati, April 11.—A rebel dispatch dated Fort Pemberton the 8th, says, the enemy commenced to re-embark last night and rapidly left. We shelled their camp and transports.

New York, April 11.—Gold firmer, opening at 53, declining to 51.

The steamer Glasgow from Liverpool, with dates to March 25th, has arrived.

In the House of Lords, the subject of recognition of the Confederate States was again brought up, but opposed by Earl Russell, and the subject dropped.

The Herald says it is rumored that the Washington Government intends laying an embargo on British property and ships as a retaliation for the depredations of the Alabama.

New York, April 12.—The anniversary of the attack on Fort Sumter was celebrated yesterday afternoon by an immense mass meeting at Union Square. It is estimated that 20,000 people were present. Speeches were delivered by Fremont, Sigel, Attorney General Dickinson and others.

The U S steamer Sumter, which left here March 23d for Port Royal, sustained some damage to her machinery, and put into Hampton Roads. She left there on the 1st of April with submarine battery Alligator in tow. From the 2d to the 6th she experienced a succession of heavy gales. She sprung a leak and put back, arriving last night.

Rebel dispatches say that in the engagement at Charleston all the monitors were frightfully cut up, but with what result is not known, but one gun was dismounted in Fort Sumter, and one man wounded.

Murfreesboro, April 12.—Van Dorn attacked Gen Granger at Franklin, yesterday, with a force estimated at 15,000. They fought most of the day. The enemy were repulsed with a loss of 400 killed, our loss was about 100 killed, wounded and missing. Gen. Granger's cavalry, led by himself, charged and captured a battery with 200 prisoners, but being unsupported, was compelled to relinquish the battery and all but 22 prisoners.

Washington, April 12.—Official dispatches in regard to the fight between Van Dorn and Granger, at Franklin, say the engagement commenced at one o'clock on Monday morning. The infantry kept the enemy at bay until the ammunition was exhausted, and reinforcements from four miles out on the Murfreesboro road, under Gen Stanley, arrived. The fire from our siege guns and light artillery literally strewed the ground with rebels.

Cairo, April 12.—The dispatches received by boat from Vicksburg say that the ironclads Louisville, Mound City, Benton, and three others are being moved to run the blockade and are expected to execute the movement on Saturday night.

The entire Tallahatchee river fleet, consisting of divisions under Gens. Ross and Quimby, with numerous gunboats, arrived at Helena April 8th. The expedition had been absent 4 days. They left the fort at Greenwood on Sunday. As soon as the bustle of preparation was commenced the movement to depart was discovered by the enemy. They opened a brisk fire of shot and shell which continued until the last boat steamed up the river. On the passage up the Tallahatchee and Coldwater rivers the boats were fired on by guerrillas concealed in the canebrakes. Twenty five or thirty on the transports were killed.

Indian Troubles.—The Indians about Jacksonville shows signs of becoming troublesome. The Sentinel says:

> They are very impudent and boast that in the vicinity of Klamath they can assemble a thousand warriors. "George," war chief of the Indians about here, says the whites must pay them for grass and right of travel through their country. It is also apparent that the Indians now in the settlements are using their utmost endeavors to procure arms and ammunition. From these and other indications it is thought more than probable by old settlers in the valley that we shall have a war with the Klamath and neighboring tribes. It may be that these fears are groundless, but all our citizens should be on their guard. Storekeepers should be careful not to sell powder and arms to any loose, dissolute persons who might reasonably be suspected of willingness to trade these contraband articles to the Indians. The arms that they now have is sufficient evidence that there are such depraved persons in our midst. It was hoped that the presence of the cavalry now here would serve to prevent hostilities, but the impudent braggadocia manner of the Indian is calculated to dispel that hope. It behooves us to be watchful.

The Bride of the Prince of Wales.—Lord Palmerston, during a debate in the House of Commons on the 24th of February, on the Prince of Wales Annuity bill, thus summed up the qualifications of the Princess Alexandra.

> When the question arose of selecting a Princess who might be the wife of the Prince of Wales, the following conditions were thought to be requisite: first of all that she should be young; next, that she should be handsome [a laugh, and "hear, hear"]; further, that she should be agreeable; that she should be amiable in her disposition, that she should be well brought up, and, lastly, that she should be a Protestant. [Hear, hear.]—All these conditions, I am happy to say are united in the Princess Alexandar. [Cheers.] I trust therefore, that the choice will be as satisfactory to the nation as I am sure it will be conducive to the happiness of the Prince of Wales. [Cheers.]

Coming Right at Last.—The St. Louis Republican, the "conservative" paper of Missouri says:

> We see nothing to invite our co-operation, or command our support, in measures looking to a cessation of hostilities, at a time when Southern rebels insolently fling back upon the North every proposition or suggestion for negotiations with a view to a settlement of our differences and a restoration of the Union.—Our creed, as we have before stated, is, "This Republic must not, shall not, be divided."—And, for the support and realization of this creed, we have always held, and still hold, that men and money adequate to the result must and shall be furnished until peace greets us on the basis of a restored and perpetual Union.

The Rebels Concede the Probable Fall of Charleston.—A Richmond correspondent writes to a rebel paper of the Southwest, that Beauregard telegraphs to the Secretary of War his inability to determine whether the Federals will first attack Charleston or Savannah. The writer adds—"We ought to prepare ourselves for the loss of Charleston," but says when taken it will be a mass of smouldering ruins.

The copperhead Legislature of Illinois spat upon the grave of Stephen A. Douglas, by voting down an appropriation for a monument to his memory. Most of the Republicans voted for the appropriation. Governor Yates (Republican) himself urged its passage.

Yamhill County Circuit Court.—The Circuit Court for Yamhill county adjourned on the 17th. There were but few cases of importance in civil suits, and but two criminal cases.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THOSE INDIANS AGAIN.—On last Saturday complaint was filed and a warrant issued by Justice McCoy for the arrest of a number of Indians living near the brickyard, in the north west part of the city—one of whom had drawn an axe on a white man These Indians have been living there for several months, the terror of the neighborhood, their midnight brawls almost nightly disturbing the repose of that heretofore quiet locality, in fact, they have become such a nuisance that several families entertain the idea of removing to a more peaceable portion of the city Their repeated arrests only entail unnecessary expense to the city, for the proper place for these Indians is on the reservation—a home provided for them by the Government, and which place they have no right to leave without permits, yet, notwithstanding this, from fifteen to twenty Indians are here all the time, shooting and cutting each other in their drunken sprees, and frequently endangering the lives of white people. We are told that the majority of them belong to the Siletz nation, where they ought to be now, and should have been long ago If some of our Indian Agents could summon up sufficient resolution to forego the luxuries of a city life long enough to visit their respective Agencies say, at least once in two years, we are of the opinion that the number of strolling vagabond Indians would be rapidly decreased. The only way left now to get rid of the Indians is to try and frighten them away by close confinement, when arrested, for several days in the city jail; and we learn that our Recorder will give this plan a trial.

RAILROAD FROM PORTLAND TO SAN FRANCISCO.—As has been previously noticed, the people of Marysville and other towns in the Northern part of California, and the towns of the Southern portion of this State, along the probable route, are agitating the project of a railroad connecting this city with Marysville and other cities of California. Mr S G Elliott, who is recommended as a civil engineer of much experience, is now in our city, having visited all the towns and places of importance on the proposed route, for the purpose of soliciting the assistance of the people, by subscriptions, influence, &c, to make a survey and maps of the route The cost of the survey and maps will not exceed $15,000 Of this sum the citizens of Marysville have [illegible] $3,000, and lists have been opened in Red Bluff, Shasta, Yreka and other principal towns through which the road is expected to pass. The importance of this undertaking needs no comment from us, and we simply call the attention our citizens to the fact of the [illegible] of Mr. Elliot, who will probably remain but a few days.

WONDERFUL TRICKS.—We witnessed the slight-of hand and magnetic tricks of Professor [illegible], on Saturday evening last, and pronounce many of them truly wonderful, interesting and amusing—to those who do not know how they were done. His magnetic balancing feats were quite astonishing, and the legerdemain was performed with much adroitness, rendering the deception complete and amusing. The song of his little daughter was greeted with much applause, accompanied by a shower of "quarters" upon the stage, which were readily picked up by the little child and smilingly carried away in her double-hands. We are satisfied that had our people known the real character and worth of the show, the house would have been crowded full, as it was, there was but a small house Should the Professor conclude to exhibit in the city again, we would suggest that he change the name of his show, as the "Sable Knights" are long since "played out" in this place, and his exhibitions bear no resemblance to the commonly understood meaning of that term.

ARRIVAL OF THE FALKINBERG.—The bark Jane A. Falkinberg, John Wiggin, master, arrived at Vancouver, on Saturday, eight days from San Francisco, and freighted with merchandise, She experienced very heavy weather during part of the trip up, and was compelled to throw overboard a portion of her deck load. The following is her manifest

J H & L R Moores, Salem, 40 packages, D Simon, 610, Kelly & Calef, 93; Richards & McCraken, 400, Savier & Co, 181; J Shepard, 20; Failings & Hatt, 63 Smith & Davis, [illegible], Allen & Lewis, 423, Abfelt, Weil & Co, 280, G W V[illegible], 184; E L & Co, 11, Wiberg & Strowbridge, 4, Knapp, Burrell & Co, 81, Wm B Meade, 8; J G Brooks, 77 J [illegible], 46, Wm Weatherford, 108; J R Foster & Co, 08; J Levy, 13; E J Northrup & Co, 34, Hersh to A & L, 236; C Burrett, 9, Harker Bros, 69 Bloch, Miller & Co, 194, O S N Co, 278; Hadley & Benjamin, 07, A Cahn & Co, 303, Jacobs & Bro, 100; J C Brooks, 3; H Pittock, 22; Milwain & Moore, 41, Levy & Bloch, 12, Rev J L Daly 1, Geo Abernethy, 25; Goyeaut & Joynt, 1, French & Gilman, 05, [illegible] to A & L, 10, Ladd, Reed & Co, 10, J Kallmes 4, [illegible] 2; Atwood K, 1, J L & B, 50, J Nolan, Astoria, 4 [illegible], Astoria, 92; Army Commissary Stores, Port Vancouver, 626; Charman, Warner & Co, Oregon City, 125

BURGLARY.—We are informed that the confectionery store of Mr. Frank Dokum, on First street, was entered by some person or persons on Friday night, who expected to make a big haul of money, but only a silver watch was found in the desk, as precaution was taken by Mr. D. to remove all valuables upon retiring for the night. Try it again!

THE OREGON TELEGRAPH LINE.—The Oregon telegraph line is rapidly advancing, the wire being stretched as far as Salem, and telegraphic communication is now had between this city and that place Mr Lyons is the operator at this end of the line.

"LOOK OUT FOR THE LOCOMOTIVE!"—The cars on the railroad of the O. S. N Co, at the Cascades, will take their first load of passengers and freight over the road to-day—it being completed and open for the public

COMMITTED TO THE PENITENTIARY.—Sheriff Warren, of Yamhill county, brought down to the penitentiary, on Saturday evening last Wm. Hess, convicted of larceny for stealing a horse, by the Circuit Court of that county on the 15th inst. He was committed for three years.

IS IT POSSIBLE!—Leland's Letter of Saturday last, says it publishes a "correct" copy of the Mayor's Message We are glad to know it published one thing correct, but the reason of this correctness was owing to the fact that it copied the Message from the OREGONIAN of the day previous.

The Last Stroke of Fortune.

Twenty years ago an old house was still standing in Cologne, which showed to the street a frontage of five small windows. It was the house in which the first painter of the Flemish school, the immortal Reubens, was born, A. D. 1577. Sixty years later than this date, the ground floor was occupied by two old people, a shoemaker and his wife. The upper story, which was usually let to lodgers, was empty at the time we write of. Two, however, occupied the garret. The evening was cold and wet, and the shoemaker and his wife were sitting together in the room below.

"You had better go up stairs again," said the old man to his wife, "and see how the old lady is. The old gentleman went out early, and has not been in since. Has she not taken anything?"

"It is only half an hour since I went up stairs, and he has not come in. I took her some broth up at noon, but she hardly touched it, and I was up again at three; she was asleep then, and at five she said she would not want anything more."

"Poor lady! This time of year and neither fire nor warm clothes, and not even a decent bed to lie on, and yet I am sure she is somebody or other. Have you noticed the respect with which the old gentleman treats her?"

"If she wants for anything it is her own fault. That ring which she wears on her finger would get her the best of everything."

Then came a knock at the door, and the woman admitted the old man they had just spoken of, whose grizzled beard fell down on his tarnished velvet coat. The hostess sadly wanted to have a little gossip with him, but he passed by, and bidding them a short good night, groped his way up the steep and crooked staircase. On entering the chamber above, a feeble voice inquired the cause of his long absence.

"I could not help it," he said, "I had been copying manuscript, and as I was on my way here, a servant met me, who was to fetch me to raise the horoscope of two ladies, who were passing through; they were ladies whom I have known before. I thought I could get a little money to pay for some samples which will be of service to you."

"I am cold."

"It is fever cold. I will make you something which you must take directly."

The flame of a small tin lamp sufficed to heat some water, and the patient, having taken what the old man provided, was diligently covered up by him with all the clothes and articles of dress he could find. He stood by her motionless, till he perceived that she was fast asleep, and indeed long after; he then retired into a small closet, and sought repose on the hard floor.

The next morning the lady was so much better that her attendant proposed she should leave the house for a moment or two, and he succeeded in getting her forth as far as the Place St. Cecilia. It was seldom that she left the house, for, notwithstanding the meanness of her dress there was that about her carriage which rendered it difficult to avoid unpleasant observation.

"Do you see that person yonder?" she said suddenly. "If I am not much mistaken, it is certainly the Duke of Guise."

The stranger's attention had also been attracted, and he now approached them.

"Parbleu!" said he; why, this is Mascall. What, are you married?"

"He does not know me," sighed the lady. "I must indeed be altered."

Mascall had, however, whispered a single word in the duke's ear, and he started as if struck by a thunderbolt, but instantly recovering himself, he hastily uncovered, and bowed nearly to the ground.

"I beg your forgiveness," he said, "but my eyes are grown so weak, and I could so little expect to have the honour of meeting you."

"For the love of God, name me not here. A title would too strongly contrast with my present circumstances. Have you been long at Cologne?"

"Three days. I am on my way from Italy. I took refuge there when our common enemy drove me forth and confiscated all my earthly goods. I am going to Brussels."

"And what are your advices from France? Is the helm still in the hands of that wretched caitiff?"

"He is in the zenith of his power."

"See, my lord duke, your fortunes and my own are much alike. You, the son of a man who, had he not too much despised danger, might well have set the crown on his own head, and I, once the Queen of the mightiest nation in the universe—and now both of us are alike. But adieu," she said suddenly, and drawing herself up, "the sight of you, my lord duke, has refreshed me much, and I pray that fortune once more may shine upon your steps."

"Permit me to attend your majesty to—"

A slight color tinged the lady's features as she answered with a gently commanding tone, "Leave us, my lord duke, it is our pleasure."

Guise bowed low, and taking the lady's hand, he pressed it reverently to his lips. At the corner he met some one, to whom he pointed out the lady and then hastened away.

The next morning a knock at the door announced a person inquiring for Monsieur Mascall; she had a small packet for him and also a billet. Inside this was distinctly written:

> "Two hundred louisd'ors constitute the whole of my present fortune, one hundred I send for your use.
>
> GUISE.

And the packet contained one hundred louisd'ors.

The sum thus obtained sufficed to supply the wants of the pair two long years. But the last louis had been changed, and the lady and her companion were still without friendly succor. The shoemaker and his wife had undertaken a journey to Aix la Chapelle, to take up some small legacy. It was on the 13th of February, 1642. A low sound of moaning might have been heard issuing from the garret, a withered female form, more like a skeleton than a thing of flesh and blood was lying on a wretched bed of straw in the agonies of death. The moans grew more and more indistinct, and a slight rattling in the throat was at length the only audible sound, and this also ceased. An hour later an old man, dressed in rags and tatters, entered the chamber. One only word had escaped his lips as he tumbled up the falling staircase—"Nothing! Nothing!" He drew near the bed listlessly, but in a moment he seized an arm of the corpse with an almost convulsive motion, and letting it suddenly fall, he cried

"Dead, dead, of hunger, cold, and starvation?"

And this lady was Mary of Medicis, wife of Henry IV, Queen Regent of France, mother of Louis XIII, of Isabella, Queen of Spain, of Henrietta, Queen of England, of Christina, Duchess of Savoy, of Gaston, Duke of Orleans—dead of hunger, cold and misery, and yet Louis XIII, the cowardly tool of Richelieu, his mother's murderer, is still called "the Just."

An old bachelor of our acquaintance says he does'nt wonder that married men over thirty-five years of age are placed in the second class of conscripts under the new conscription law. They have suffered enough for their country already!

LEGAL

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall pay on all nett profits less $600 derived from any source whatever. A person is allowed to deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes, hired help, Rents, Drayage, &c., necessary to carry on his business, but no farmer or other person has a right to deduct his own labor as so much expense from his income.

The Income Tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1st 1862, so that on the evening of December 31st 1862 everybody should make up a record of their income gains or profits for that year. And as many sources of income, such as Dividends and Railroad Bonds and Stocks, Insurance Stock, Savings Banks Interest, &c., (they having already paid the income tax,) are not again taxed, it therefore becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income that there may be no dispute with the Assessor.

All corporations must deduct the three per centum before declaring their dividends.

For Example:

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount less $600.

A man may, outside of his business, spend all and even more than his profits in the business, nevertheless he must pay tax on all nett business profits except the $600. And so with a salary, all over $600 must be taxed though personal or family expenses consume it all.

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is assessable on the first day of May, 1863, and is due and payable on or before the 30th June, 1863. And any sums due and unpaid for thirty days after the 30th June as aforesaid, and for ten days after demand by the Collector, five per centum will be added to the amount unpaid.

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make up his income separately.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore, thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt: Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances, and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
